

A and B want to negotiate, but there is no direct communication between them, as they are in two different areas (I and II).

A negotiates with B's representative (ghost) and A's representative (ghost) communicates the result to B.